Clinical Investigator Pathway Program (Winn CIPP)

Inspiring future physicians to strengthen clinical trials and improve care for all.

Program Goal

This six-week in-person summer externship immerses medical students in community-based research within underserved areas, preparing them to become community-focused clinical trial researchers and advancing trial representation.

Eligibility

Winn CIPP is open to active 1st-3rd year medical students in MD, MD/PhD, DO, or DO/PhD programs at accredited U.S. medical schools (including Puerto Rico).

Participants must be U.S. citizens, permanent residents, or have DACA approval. In alignment with the program's mission, Winn CIPP prioritizes consideration of students from disadvantaged or first-generation backgrounds as defined by the AAMC.

Program Locations

2026 locations include: Atlanta, GA; Chicago, IL; Louisville, KY; Los Angeles, CA; Memphis, TN; New Orleans, LA; New York, NY; Richmond, VA; San Antonio, TX; Seattle, WA; Tucson, AZ; Winston-Salem, NC. (Cities subject to change.)

Our Partners

$7,500
SUMMER STIPEND

Intended to cover travel, living, and lodging expenses.

WINN CIPP PROGRAM COMPONENTS

Winn CIPP students will discover the basics of clinical trials and work in community-based clinical research organizations, gaining hands-on knowledge and experience through three core competency areas:

Clinical Research

Develop short-term, team-based projects with guidance from site supervisors

Community Engagement

Design and implement collaborative intervention projects like needs assessments or educational programs

Leadership Development

Learn about clinical research career paths and build community-oriented leadership skills through peer learning and mentorship from site leaders
